

We hope you have had a wonderful start to 2026.

Today, we bring you the first quarterly newsletter of the year, where we reflect on the past twelve months, and look forward to all that the coming quarter has to offer.

Reflections on 2025

2025 was a productive, successful year for SPORIFY. Our developers spent much of their time hard at work preparing for the upcoming introduction of the EMA SPOR Products domain to the SPORIFY system. Throughout the year, we were likewise pleased to meet many of our valued customers at various conferences and events in Europe, North America, and Asia.

New Release: SPORIFY 2025.2.0.0

We are pleased to inform you that SPORIFY 2025.2.0.0 is now available to customers. SPORIFY 2025.2.0.0 sees the introduction of the EMA SPOR Products domain to the SPORIFY system.

Some of the useful new features and functionalities that were introduced in our Products module include:

- Synchronisation of Product data from EMA SPOR
- Upload of local Products
- Mapping of local Products to PMS
- View, search, filter, and export of Product data

We will be enhancing the SPORIFY Products module throughout 2026, with highly anticipated features including Product Comparison and Veeva Vault RIM Product Integration on the way.

For more information about SPORIFY 2025.2.0.0, see our release notes.
